

Mariam Ceesay

516-298-3220

ceesaymariam12@gmail.com

Bronx, NY 10456

---

15 February 2024

Dear Hiring Manager

Harlem Children's Zone
New York, NY 10035

Hello, my name is Mariam Ceesay. I am currently a first-year student at the City College of New York majoring in biotechnology. I read about this job on Indeed and it immediately caught my interest. Forensic science was always a career I have been passionate about, and I believe that teaching high school about it can heighten their interest for this career path, so they can also be passionate about analyzing crime scenes. I believe I am a strong candidate for the forensic specialist position because of my experience in forensic science, communication skills, and problem-solving skills as well as beginner level experience in coding.

My experience in forensic science started back in September 2022 and went on to May 2023, where I had taken an elective forensic science class. Lab experiments such as paper chromatography, dusting for fingerprints, and analyzing blood at a crime scene were all being done. I had gained the knowledge on how to solve a crime scene based on DNA. My communication and problem-solving skills were also proven during my time in forensic science. I had to work together with my classmates to decipher a crime scene and figure out the potential suspect. My beginner level coding experience started in July 2023 where I got paid to complete coding assignments that were very straightforward and not difficult to understand.

You can look at my resume for more information about my experience. Would it be okay for me to meet with you all for an interview? I am available any time on Friday. You can reach me at ceesaymariam12@gmail.com or 516-298-3220. Thanks, I look forward for the opportunities that is yet to come

Sincerely,
Mariam Ceesay